Week of Prayer/For Christian Unity – 1908-2008*“Pray without ceasing” (1 Thes. 5-17)

In 1908 at Graymoor in Garrison, New York, the Franciscan Friars and Sisters of the Atonement held the first Church Unity Octave and have prayed for Christian unity, “without ceasing,” ever since. Today, Christians around the world celebrate the Week of Prayer for Christian Unity together, with the encouragement of the World Council of Churches’ Faith and Order Commission and the Vatican’s Pontifical Council for Promoting Christian Unity.

Gracious Father, Almighty and eternal God, you gather the scattered sheep and watch over those you have gathered. Look kindly on all who follow Jesus, your Son. You have marked them with the seal of one baptism; now make them one in the fullness of faith and unite them in the bond of love. We ask this through Christ our Lord. Amen.

Parish Mission- February 24 – 28, 2008

Friar Justin Belitz, OFM will lead our parish mission focusing on relationships. Relationships bring us great joy BUT can also bring pain and sorrow. This statement is true for us today as it has been for centuries. However, we all have free will. That means we can choose to enjoy all of our relationships, whether they are with ourselves, with others, with things, with life-experiences, or with God. The key is to know how you relate, and Understanding 7 principles that govern all relationships. Join us for our parish mission to learn more about strengthening your relationships. “Relationships are essential to life. Use them to create a Full Life!”

Candlelight Remembrance

Steven Martin of Indianapolis will be giving the inspirational meditation at the annual Decatur County Right to Life Candlelight Remembrance Wednesday evening January 23rd at 6:30 p.m. This Candlelight Ceremony remembers the tiny helpless preborn children destroyed by legalized abortion during the last 35 years since 1973.

This brief 15 minute Ceremony is held on the east side of the Courthouse Lawn and will include candles, lights and appropriate song with prayer. Pastor Doug Preston of Greensburg Wesleyan Church will open with prayer.

Everyone is invited to this solemn remembrance of the aborted little ones. “Taps” will be played.

DVD Series has arrived. Fr. Bill Burton has created a 3-CD series on his program, “An Introduction to the Bible.” This set is available from our parish resource library located at the parish office. It can be checked out at any time for a 2-week period.

Sessions include an introduction to biblical texts focusing on geography and authors, Israel’s history, prophetic works, the Jewish world of Jesus, an overview of the new testament, and the synoptic gospels.

Fr. Bill has been with us twice for personal presentations and has been very well received. The information he presents is very enlightening and gives a fresh view for reading scripture.

Martin Luther King's Birthday

(January 15, observed on the third Monday in January)

Lord our God, see how oppression and violence are our said inheritance, one generation to the next. We look for you where the lowly are raised up, where the mighty are brought down. We find you there in yours servants, and we give you thanks this day for your preacher

Fill us with your spirit: where our human community is Divided by racism, torn by repression, saddened by fear and Ignorance, may we give ourselves to your work of healing.
Grant this through Christ our Lord. Amen.

HIGH SCHOOL PARENTS

The Decatur County Family YMCA will be hosting area youth and their parents for an exciting, new faith based purity program.

Transformed challenges both junior and senior high teens and their parents to, "Be no longer conformed to the pattern of this world, but be transformed by the renewing of their mind" (Romans 12:2). The Pregnancy Care Centers of South Central Indiana will be presenting this educational program, designed to address tough issues regarding sexual integrity from a Biblical perspective.

An introductory parent session will be held at the YMCA at 7:00 p.m. Thursday, January 24, 2008. All interested adults are invited to attend. All additional sessions will be held at the YMCA at 7:00 p.m. Thursdays January 31st through February 21st.

Please prayerfully consider participating as we strive to encourage, enlighten and empower teens and their parents through God's truths.
This program is not a mandatory part of our religious education program. We are informing parents about the program so that you have the opportunity to participate if you choose.

You may contact Lisa Newton, Transformed Coordinator at 812-378-4114 or pcc-lisanewton@sbcglobal.net if you have questions or would like more information. You can also contact Anita Navarra at our parish office.

Transformed is a four-week, scripture based, sexual integrity program which challenges teens and their parents (who will attend together) to "be no longer conformed to the pattern of this world, but be transformed by the renewing of their mind" (Romans 12:2)

This program challenges participants to transform their thinking from asking, "How far can I go?" to having a new mindset of asking, "How pure can I be?"

Transformed has been designed to approach the topic of sexual integrity in an interactive, Biblical and respectful way. Starting with a parent orientation and continuing through four additional sessions, it is our mission to teach God's truths while cautiously leading participants through the tangled web of cultural lies. There is no room for condemnation in this program. God's forgiveness, renewal and strength through the Holy Spirit are taught as essential in making sexual wholeness a reality on our lives.

James 1:25 describes God's standards as, "the perfect law that gives freedom." We invite you to join us as we seek to transform the lives of youth by helping them understand their abundant life, dignity, passions and dreams come true are all found within God's boundaries.

Dear Community,

I know you are concerned about the state of my vocal chords. I went to Doctor Stevens's office in Columbus on January 8th for the second examination since my third surgery in December of 2007. He said my vocal chords are still healing." "Come back on February 1 for another examination." That's all I can tell you now.

I will be leaving for Washington DC on January 20th for the March for Life with a group from St. Nicholas parish in Sunman. I will be back on Wednesday, January 23 at 4:00 a.m. We will travel by bus. If Fr. Lucas is still with us, he will cover the Masses on January 20. If he is gone, Fr. Gerald Burkert will take the Sunday Masses.

If you're old enough to have heard it, you won't ever forget the deep, authoritative voice of Walter Cronkite, anchor of the "CBS Evening News" during the 1960's and 1970's. Because of his journalistic integrity, Cronkite was described as the most trusted man in America. He would end his broadcasts with the phrase "And that's the way it is." And for America, there was no question that this was the truth.

John the Baptist was like a news anchor of his time. This herald announced the coming of Jesus. After Jesus' baptism, John continued to announce him, declaring him to be the Son of God.

If Walter Cronkite had been around in those days, he could most rightly have underscored John's declaration by saying, "And that's the way it is!"

On the Lighter Side

*An exasperated mother, whose son was always getting into mischief, finally asked him, "How do you expect to get into heaven?" The boy thought it over and said, "Well, I'll just run in and out and in and out and keep slamming the door until St. Peter says, "For heaven's sake, Jimmy, come in or stay out."

*A friend was in front of me coming out of church one day, and the preacher was standing at the door as he always is to shake hands. He grabbed my friend by the hand and pulled him aside. The pastor said, "You need to join the Army of the Lord!" My friend said, "I'm already in the Army of the Lord, Pastor." The pastor questioned, "How come I don't see you except at Christmas and Easter?" He whispered back, "I'm in the secret service."

Keep smiling, Msgr. Knueven

We Want to See the World

by David Burke

(A spiritual pro-life song)

Women

Children of God's love,
I am the angel of your lives,
You have been created by God,
He gave you life upon the earth,
Earth has flowers and waterfalls,
And raindrops that fall upon the trees
And rainbows that shine as bright as stars,
Where snow covered mountains reach the sky.

Children (in the womb)

Who are you who sings to us?
Tell us more about our lives,
Tell us more about our God,
We want to know about the earth,
Tell us more, please tell us all,
These are things we want to see,
Can you tell us where they are?
We want to know about the sky.

As I hear your words, I know you want to see the world, and I can feel your little hearts just want the love that they deserve.
So now we lift our voice and pray the whole world will rejoice as we sing...

Refrain: Holy gracious Jesus Christ, we kneel and thank You for our Lives, and pray that every unborn child will see their parents' Loving smile. May every mother realize that You will guard their children's lives, and every father know the truth: THAT CHILDREN ARE A GIFT FROM YOU.

Dear Parishioners,

What is a Sabbath?

Here's a quick quiz. The Sabbath is:

- A. A tedious day full of rules about what we can't do
- B. A day to rest and grow closer to God
- C. A protected time to realize and enjoy our identity as people created by God
- D. A 24-hour period in which we relinquish our focus on doing

You may have answered A because of past experiences with a particular religious tradition. If you answered B, C, or D, however, you were closer to a correct understanding of the Sabbath.

We can begin to get a picture of what the Sabbath is by looking at the Ten Commandments. Remember the Sabbath day by keeping it holy. Six days you shall labor and do all your work, but the seventh day is a Sabbath to the Lord your God. On it you shall not do any work, neither you, nor your son or daughter, nor your manservant or maidservant, nor your animals, nor the alien within your gates. For in six days the Lord made the heavens and earth, the sea, and all that is in them, but he rested on the seventh day. Therefore the Lord blessed the Sabbath day and made it holy.—Ex. 20:8-11

In this command, we see that the very nature of the Sabbath is fundamentally different from the other six days. It is a day that is to be set apart—holy. It is a day in which we imitate our Creator by ceasing, as He did, from our creative labors.

Deuteronomy 5:12-15 restates the Sabbath command and further clarifies its purpose by connecting it to the Israelites' 400-year captivity in Egypt. Generation after generation had worked without a rest—four centuries of constant activity. They had ceased to exist as humans and lived only as machines to accomplish a job. The Israelites' identity didn't matter to their slave-driving masters, the Egyptians.

We, too, become enslaved to our work when we refuse to rest. Our focus on God fades. Even though keeping the Sabbath is one of the Ten Commandments, we routinely break it. But whether we realize it or not, a Sabbath rest is a critical part of God's plan for how we should live.

And lest we think that observing the Sabbath is simply an Old Testament affair, Jesus reaffirmed its importance in Mk. 2:27: "The Sabbath was made for man." The Sabbath is for our benefit. It is a gift to us. Anita Navarra

Conversations With God.

Drama based on the successful series of spiritual self-help books by author Neale Donald Walsch (Henry Czerny), who, after losing his job and finding himself homeless, alleges that God, prompted by his questioning, began speaking to him directly, with their ongoing “conversation” resulting in his best-sellers. Earnestly directed by Stephen Simon, the film fluctuates between maudlin and genuinely moving, and while clearly containing ideas (a hodgepodge of gnosticism, pantheism and New Age mysticism) incompatible with Christian theology, nevertheless imparts a sincere message about God’s unconditional love and abiding presence that should resonate with Catholic viewers. Questionable theological underpinnings, some mature themes and brief mild innuendo. A-III—adults. (PG) 2006

Full Review—“Conversations With God” (Samuel Goldwyn) is about exactly what its title suggests. It’s based on the popular series of spiritual self-help books by Neale Donald Walsch, recounting the events in his life leading up to their publishing.

The film starts with Walsch (played by Henry Czerny) as an established author and speaker, thereafter telling the story in flashbacks. After suffering a broken neck in a car crash, Walsch loses his job and apartment and soon finds himself pitching a tent in a homeless encampment. He manages to land a part-time position at a radio station but that too ends in disappointment.

At that juncture, Walsch—raised a Catholic—alleges God began speaking to him directly, answering with candor and humor the pointed questions posed to him about life and happiness. The transcript of the “conversation with God” forms the basis of Walsch’s best-seller.

Fluctuating between maudlin and genuinely moving, Stephen Simon’s earnestly directed adaptation works best during Walsch’s ordeal on the streets, including a scene in which Walsch is reduced to scavenging a half-eaten burger from a garbage bin that powerfully conveys the humiliation experienced by many homeless people.

Czerny gives a credible and poignantly human performance that overcomes screenwriter Eric DeLaBarre’s uneven script.

More background would have been helpful. What was Walsch like before his downward skid? He regrets hurting family members and acknowledges several failed marriages—children are suggested—but his past life remains vague. Also, a recurring dreamlike image of him and his mother is never explained, nor her enigmatic comment that he “will never love anyone.”

Walsch’s books promote what he calls New Spirituality, which, among other things, argues that organized religions are divisive. But in criticizing others as arrogant for claiming a direct line to the truth, what, if anything, “new” does his New Spirituality offer? Like those of “The Celestine Prophecy,” Walsch’s revelations are little more than a syncretic hodgepodge of gnosticism, pantheism and New Age mysticism laced with Christian terminology without any set dogma beyond an emotion-driven subjectivism. (“You make the rules!” God tells him.)

On a less philosophical level, the dialogue is contradictory at times: God informs Walsch that the “parent” image mankind has saddled him with is a misguided projection, then affectionately refers to us as his sons and daughters.

Simon avoids Walsch’s more outrageous musings. (Volume three, for instance, includes a lengthy exchange about whether Jesus was an extraterrestrial). The books aside, this movie, while clearly containing ideas incompatible with Christian theology, nevertheless imparts a sincere message about God’s unconditional love and abiding presence that should resonate with Catholic viewers.

The film contains questionable theological underpinnings, some mature themes and brief mild innuendo. The USCCB Office for Film & Broadcasting classification is A-III—adults. The Motion Picture Association of America rating is PG—parental guidance suggested. Some material may not be suitable for children.
